Edit: The original post may be found here: Why do we say “(have) done” when we mean “being”? As an example: She's doing homework. She is doing homework. A: I'm going to assume you're talking about the verb "do". If you look at the dictionary, you'll find that it takes either the present or the past tense. So the answer to your question is very simple. She's doing homework. does not have the same meaning as She is doing homework. While it is true that the word "doing" is 2d92ce491b
