Meet the Author This book is about the poems written by Willa Cather, which is also known as the author of the novels “O Pioneers!”, “My á!”, “The Song of the Lark”, “O Little Town of Bethlehem”. “O My Á!” (1916) was the last work by Willa Cather, who died on May 28, 1947, aged 79, and “The Song of the Lark” is a poem written in 1918 in which she has used beautiful words in her own way. A gentle, even sweet tone is heard throughout the poem. “O Pioneers!” is a story that was first published in 1917. The title of the novel is made from the words “Out of the common, out of the ordinary, out of the everyday—or even out of the extraordinary!” and the story of the novel has been written from the poet’s own experiences of childhood. It is the story of five pioneers who come to a new country to make a new life. It shows the difficulties that the pioneers face and the things they have to deal with. There are three big themes in the book: money, religion, and the community. The book is written in a dialogue between the past and the present. The reader sees the past in the lives of the pioneers and the present of the modern world in the life of an immigrant. The language of the book is the American frontier language. The diction is full of the past culture of America and the language of the pioneers. “O Pioneers!” is also about different life styles, the value of hard work, and the value of life.
