In the Register tab, enter your activation ID in the User Registration box and then click OK. . You can now start the Microsoft Office 2010 . A: TL;DR As already mentioned in the question above, Office 365 will not be provided with a product key. In fact, Office 365 is not provided with any documentation. As such, there are no way of doing this. You will have to wait until Office 2016 comes out. Long answer Office 365 is not the same as Office 2016. If you buy Office 365 you get Windows and Office, you don't get any more than that. Microsoft is providing Office 365 services to Office 365 subscribers, not to consumers. You can sign up for Office 365 at Microsoft's website. While Office 2016 is being sold for $79 at retail stores you can sign up for it on the Microsoft website or at their Office website for $80. Microsoft is currently not selling Office 2016 or Office 365 at retail stores. Office 2017 is being sold at retail stores. Office 2016 will be provided with a product key for Windows and Office only. Office 365 (the subscription service) has no version without a product key. , and will want to complete the puzzle. What happened to our children? I can't even imagine the six Amish children, between the ages of 9 and 14, taken from their parents and deposited near the base of a mountain at 10 p.m. on a summer day in June. The Amish feel a need to follow their parents' morals, even when their parents' morals were not as strict as those of the Amish, and their parents agreed to raising the children in "modern" society and to bringing them to Wal-Mart to have them "taught from right and wrong," which the Amish do not practice. It is an outrage. Shopping at Wal-Mart reminds me of reading about the Canadian Indian tribes who were taken from their lands and forced to do farm labor for the white settlers. The Indians were given all the illicit best and worst land to farm; some of the Indians died in hunger; some of the Indians died
