Cool lucid dreaming software Lucille dreams lucidly, silently and without fail, improving your ability to experience your dreams lucidly. Lucille is a mostly hidden program which pops up questions to help take reality tests. The questions can be customized. The look of Lucille can be changed through so called skins. An included manual explains more about the backgrounds of lucid dreaming. Lucille comes with questions in English, German and Dutch. Lucille Description: Cool lucid dreaming software Lucille dreams lucidly, silently and without fail, improving your ability to experience your dreams lucidly. We provide an alternative to "funny dream interpretation software". Our software analyzes your sleep cycles and suggests dream interpretation. Lucid Dreaming is a test to see if you are lucid dreaming. When it works, it can improve the quality of your dreams and therefore it may also be considered to be a dream analyser. Lucille is a program which makes you take a reality test and lets you know what the results are. The program is mainly meant for lucid dreaming beginners. But it can also be used as a tool to analyze your life. Lucille can come with a plain appearance (click here to see a sample) or you can choose one of the provided skins (click here for a list of skins). There is a manual included with Lucille explaining how to use the program.  Lucille uses a simple basic interface, the icons are easy to use. The interface is in red on a white background. The logo in the middle is black on a white background.  In the top left corner is an options menu which lets you change the look of the program. When you start Lucille, a large dialog will appear. If you press the right button in the upper left you can open the main window which contains the questions. There are two buttons in the main window, one for answering and the other for skipping. The default answers are like this: In the main window there are three buttons at the bottom, a control panel to enter additional questions and a preview of the results. In the middle of the dialog there is a progress indicator, you can press a button to see how long it will take until you can see the results. Lucille Screenshot, In the lower part of the dialog there are two buttons which let you choose the type of question and the result. After clicking on the question you are asked whether you want to see it in plain text or as a picture. The default for all questions is plain text. Lucille Screenshot, When you click on the "Select Question" button, the first question of the list will be selected. The first question of Lucille is "How do you like to relax?" There is a white button in the middle with the text Relax, a black button in the middle with the text Relaxing and a grey button in the middle with the text Relaxing the best. The button that says Relax the best is the correct answer. There is no button with the text Relax. The button with the text Relax is the first choice and the button with the text Relaxing is the third choice. Lucille Screenshot, After you click on the Relax button, the question disappears and you are asked whether you want to see the results. Lucille
