I have also seen multiple solutions written on stackoverflow. How do I solve this problem in sql in general? Thanks. A: It will never be able to find key_value_count since you didn't specify an index on that field. You probably wanted to use an index, but the actual structure of the table does not allow for that. Your options are: leave it out of the query. It will create problems use an alternate structure for this column. This is not necessarily the best option. It is known that the
