Wondershare Dr.Fone Toolkit.Could a "Cup of Mocha" be the new "Shower Beer"? We know that coffee drinkers often reach for their coffee cups for a quick, caffeine fix before jumping in the shower. Now, there's evidence to suggest that coffee drinkers might soon be reaching for something else: a "cup of mocha." A recently published study found that coffee drinkers are switching to chocolate drinks, especially mocha-flavored lattes. It found that the number of people who opt for mochas, or who ask for them specifically, was soaring over the past four to five years. So what gives? The study, which was conducted by researchers at Penn State University, was based on data collected from Starbucks and second-hand from Internet forums, including Yelp. If you look at it closely, the study shows that the mocha craze has taken on a new meaning: It's starting to mean any coffee drink with chocolate flavor. The Penn State researchers also noted that caffeine consumption of these mocha-drinkers has also surged since the 2000s. So the people who are ordering mochas are giving themselves a caffeine fix but also getting their chocolate
