B.C. NDP Leader John Horgan says he wants to see his party's economic plan announced more than a year ahead of the election rather than wait until closer to the vote.

Horgan raised the prospect during an interview with CBC Radio's The Early Edition, less than a week before the April 23, 2017 provincial election. Listen to the full interview below: "If we were going to give that speech on May 3, 2016, or if we were going to introduce this [budget] on May 3, 2017, I
