It's also close to the tourist area, so it's a popular place to stay, especially for families. We had an "Afternoon Tea" at Hibiscus, which is a small cafe with an outdoor seating area. It was a nice little place to relax, get some tea, and munch on sandwiches. The food was good, the ambiance was nice, and it was a comfortable spot to relax. We stayed here on a recommendation from a friend. The hotel itself looked pretty nice and was a bit above average. The room was clean, and the staff was all very friendly. There were many things to do and places to visit in Ortigia, but the hotel was a pretty comfortable place to rest. The only downside, I believe, was that the room had a small balcony on the side of the hotel that overlooked the parking lot, which was a little noisy. Even though it was still the middle of the day, it was annoying that we could hear any vehicles that drove through the parking lot. But nothing serious, and it wasn't really loud. If you're wondering if you should stay here, the nice staff might be the deciding factor for you. And I think it was a great place to stay for our needs. The best part about it was that they gave us a free travel coffee/tea voucher, which was nice. This is a fancy restaurant, but it's also on the seafront and is a popular place to eat in Ortigia. We had a lovely seafood lunch while enjoying the view. My only complaint was that the service was
