to use SQLite version 3. To do this, you have to add a `_USE_OLD_MECHANISM;` To your database creation query. Alternatively, you can use one version of SQLite and change the database version with something like: `"SELECT sqlite_version()"` You can always query the database version by opening the database and running: `SELECT * FROM sqlite_master` And reading the version number from the `created_version` field. Update: It turns out that SQLite version 3.0.0 was released on September 5, 2008.

If you installed SQLite version 3.6.23, then the `_USE_OLD_MECHANISM` is there for you to use. Update 2: You can solve this problem by switching your SQLite version to 3.0.0. Follow the guide here on getting SQLite 3 running. Update 3: Read up on the 1.4.0.1 release. `x20000000 _CQCTL_PUBLISH_OFFSET_MASK = 0x1ffff000`
