Studio? Is there any possibility to change the message area? When I use two lines, the font is a bit small and the second line is not visible. When the lines are too long, the whole thing is too wide. The textarea must only show the first error line. A: If you have one error you can click on it to have it expand into a separate view with all of the error details. If you have more than one error you have to click on the first error to expand it to have the rest appear. Q: Why can't I run a build process for an iOS project using the gradle plugin for Android? I've a project with iOS and

Android components. The iOS app is a hybrid app, which is linked to a React Native view. My Android app has two components: a custom view (`AndroidView`), and a library (`RemoteView`). My gradle build file includes the following:
