A comedy about a London club hostess caught up in the world of sport and Russian agents, who are planning to make a killing by sending her to the Paralympics in order to sabotage them. The first meeting of the proposed theatre company, Sing Out!, will begin in East London at the UEP Theatre Club in Whitechapel. It will be a workshop with one of the company's members leading a discussion. Looking after young people with physical or mental disabilities The theatre company plans to raise the profile of people with disabilities. They plan to get some of these people to play roles which they normally would not be asked to do. There will be workshops for actors with learning difficulties and people with more obvious disabilities. Training and workshops for managers and volunteers will include training for work in the arts. This can be in drama, dance, music or movement. Councillor Richard Barnes, leader of Lambeth council, said: I am delighted to have Sing Out! run by Lambeth, which has one of the highest numbers of people with disabilities in London. It's a great opportunity for the company to gain valuable experience. I hope that people in East London will give them some support.
