The time is now. We're seeking to open a new audience to the world of slacker clowns, colossean comedy, and the ridiculous. We're excited about our first step, and we couldn't be more grateful for our wonderful patrons, readers, and followers. A post has been made to the slacker clowns facebook page, so here's hoping we can get there. We hope you can find us there, and we hope you will consider subscribing, following, and liking the page. We'd love it if you'd spread the word. We'll be sure to keep you updated on our new endeavors, and we thank you for your time and consideration.Q: Java eclipse, attach debugger to process and switch to it I'm just getting started with the JVM and Java debugger. I understand how to attach to a process and debug that process, but I'm not 100% clear on how to do a couple of things... The first is how to attach to a process and debug it, and switch to that process every time the debugger breaks. In other words, I'd want to debug my application as it is executing, but when it hits a breakpoint I'd want to switch to that process
