I have recently downloaded an Icom software that I am interested in this software because of its ability to scan all models of RF receiver from Icom Cs-fxx series to 70 series. I have a few questions about this software. 1) I have no idea of how it works. Have no idea about new scanning features, etc. 2) How does it compare to the Icom FM scanning software? 3) As I said earlier, this software is also capable of programming the Icom 50watts Vhf models. I can see the radio model names of RF transmitter through radio browser. I will be using this software for medium range FM scanning and only few types of operation. Will this be sufficient? 4) Do I need to purchase a new software for the new IC Fxx series radios (for ex. F5022 and so on)? Or it will remain compatible? 5) Can I use this software for IC F5011 and so on series RF transmitter? 6) Will this software be able to program Icom 40watts HF and VHF? 7) I have heard that this software can program Icom 50watts vhf radio. 8) Does this software support Icom 7watts HF and VHF? 9) Will the Icom software work with Icom Cs-fxx series USB direct interface? I am not able to get any good feedback for this software. It has not much number of user. What are your thoughts on this software and will it be good enough for 1cb139a0ed
