Remote Display Control in Windows As was already mentioned, one of the major features of remote display control applications is the ability to monitor the activities of the system, including keyboard and mouse activity. Keyboard activity can be monitored from not only the remote control, but also from the application itself, which you can do by pressing Shift + F4, and vice versa. Another common issue is the inability to change the screen orientation of the video display, and the fact that you need to press Ctrl + Alt + Del in order to end the video stream. This isn't the case anymore with a recent version of remote display control for Windows. Remote
