Font Ninja for Chrome is a well-designed extension that allows you to identify fonts from pretty much any website on the Internet. Font Ninja for Chrome uses a unique algorithm that analyses font files and provides you with accurate results. There's also an option that provides you with extra information regarding the discovered fonts such as its name, and other CSS-related properties. Additionally, you can also check out more styles related to the fonts, their foundry, price, and even how popular they are on the Internet (how many websites are actually using them). Have you ever spent hours building a website only to realize that it doesn't really look good on a monitor? After seeing a beautiful website or logo that really looks "wow", you know you want to steal some design ideas for your own project. The question is, what do you do when you don't want to build your own website or hire a designer? What do you do when you're a broke student or blogger, or anyone in between, and don't have much free time or the budget for premium design? Fortunately, the answer to all these questions is pretty easy - get a free online web design tool called Canva. Canva is a web-based graphic design software for both designers and non-designers. Designed as a beginner's tool, Canva offers over 4 million fonts, more than a million image formats, and more than 100 clipart categories. The big question is, why would you need a graphic design tool on the web? It's pretty obvious why you would need to use Canva to create your own design, but what if you want to steal some design ideas for your own project? The answer is also pretty obvious - simply save Canva's free images to your computer and use it as a stock image library. In this tutorial, you will learn how to use Canva's image library to easily and efficiently save and use images. Canva's free images and vector graphics are not only useful in designing your own projects, but they can also be used to create your own blog designs, posters, flyers, or any other type of project where you need to save some images. Sticking with Canva's free images as an example, here are some ideas and tutorials you can use them for: Creating your own website Creating blog themes Creating a flyer Creating a business card Setting up social media accounts Create your own website with Canva Before getting started, you need to download and install the Canva application to your computer. As people continue to spend more and more of their time online, the demand for fast, reliable, and secure web hosting is
