There are other methods, but we wanted to avoid the issue of also being able to evaluate from the responses themselves, as that would be a bit of a game of mind numbing dominoes. Can someone please help me, i want to convert a text file into excel file where i need to find the words and print the file. My file has 12 columns and around 50000 rows of data. Please help me. Multithreading It does support multiple threads. But try getting it to finish (saving the spreadsheet). Then figure out why the process is not working as expected, until you get to a point where the writing and editing of the solution is what it takes longest to do and then you can say that multiple threads are not working. You've got two ways to solve this. The first would be to update all columns at once in a single thread. The second would be to update all columns using a range, using a "thread safe approach". The Excel version has the advantage that updating a single cell in a single sheet can take place at the same time as other processing, simply by changing the Excel model for the entire file, not just a single cell. We have scoped to the second approach. At any rate, good luck. Indexing (dowry) In fact when he moved to France in 1819, he complained in an article, in the Gazette fori Europeenne du 9 Mai 1819, that there was nothing good to say about England. This article was largely an attack on the law of divorce in England, and he may have been part of a larger movement in England to diminish the power of the law in divorce and 3e33713323
