Link to problem explanation Consider the first algorithm: find(permutation, LIS) initialise weight array (for all values of index i from 1 to n, store w[i] = i) initialise current length (y) = 0 while w[x] and w[j] - w[x] > 1: w[j] = w[x] - 1 current = j x = j if w[x] > 0: w[x] = 0 current = x + 1 current = w[x] - 1 y = current yield(i) If we run the algorithm on an array of 8 elements that is sorted, the output will be the two long increasing subsequences: 1 1 2 2 2 3 3 3 4 4 5 5 So, we found the 1st increasing subsequence: [1, 1, 2, 2, 3, 3, 4, 4, 5]. And the second increasing subsequence: [5, 4, 3
