FilmImpact Net Transition Packs Bundle TP1 V3 1 5 TP2 V3 2.Q: How to Find and Add some values in DB I have Products Table $products = DB::table('products') ->select('products.product_name','products.available') ->get(); What I am trying to do is to find and add some values in available column from session in the view. I mean, If the user already added product in the session then that product should not be added again into the products table. In the view I have a form where the user can enter the product Name. Product Name I did not find any way to do it in angularjs A: You can write a function which will check if the product is already in the DB and perform your logic for update. If it is already in the DB then just return and don't add to the list. function UpdateProduct(product) { $http({url:'/api/'}) .success(function(data, status, headers, config) { if(status==200) { $scope.product = data; } }) .error(82138339de
