Jun 26, 2013 Category:Programming languages Category:Far Cry Category:Computer-related introductions in 2000 Category:Video game development softwareQ: How to convert a set of the form  $\{P \mid Q\}$  to the type  $\{P \mid Q\}$  in Coq? I'm trying to work out some tricky proofs with dependent types in Coq. In order to do this, I have to prove things like the following: lemma nat\_prod\_assoc\_correct {a b c} (h1 h2 : a \* b) (h3 : a + c = c + a) : h1 \* (h2 \* h3) = h1 \* h2 \* h3. Proof. intro h. simpl h1. simpl h2. intro ht. induction ht using simp\_a\_induction with h1, h3; intros; simpl ht. auto. Qed. Of course, this doesn't work, since the proof branch with ht has more than one hypothesis. Furthermore, I would want to write proofs like lemma nat\_prod\_assoc\_correct {a b c} (h1 h2 : a \* b) (h3 : a + c = c + a) : h1 \* (h2 \* h3) = h1 \* h2 \* h3. Proof. intro h. simpl h1. simpl h2. induction h3 using induction with h1. simpl h1. simpl h2. intro ht. induction ht using simp\_a\_induction with h1. auto. Qed. where I would want to write something like simp\_a\_induction with h1 on a generic family of hypotheses that always hold in that proof branch. The question: How would I go about doing this? I realise that what I'm asking to do seems like a very simple thing, but the Coq manual is mostly silent on this issue. A: Finally I came up with the following solution. Require Import MultCat.
