Hide Window Hotkey Product Key is a simple, straightforward Windows utility that helps users deal with the inevitable opening of multiple windows. The application comes with a complete set of utilities. Among the good stuff in this app are a hotkey that allows users to toggle windows by pressing a key combination, a keypad to quickly set a combination of keys to switch among the active windows, a support of keyboard shortcuts and adjustable window positions. For the default behavior, while the window list scrolls through, you have the option to open one at a time by pressing Alt+Tab or allow more than one window to be visible at a time. When you opt to customize the application's control scheme, you'll be presented with an extensive list of the user interface's own hotkeys. This means that you'll no longer need to press a hotkey, such as the Windows key or Ctrl, to toggle between the different types of windows on your desktop. However, we can only use hotkeys that have been attached to specific programs. So, using the appropriate hotkey for each window is possible. There are several reasons why this is the case, including that we shouldn't compromise performance and speed. It's also the case that the Hide Window Hotkey application doesn't support all the hotkeys that other applications support. In any case, you can basically customize Hide Window Hotkey to work however you want to. All you have to do is access the hotkey section of the app's settings menu and follow the prompts.
