Watch 47 Ronin Online 720p Subtitle English.Q: What benefits do I get for having a Personal Apple ID over an App ID? I've downloaded the TestFlight SDK and am setting it up to start building my first iPhone App. How come there's no option in the iOS Provisioning Portal for creating a test app? As far as I can tell, this is part of an App ID. I've also created a new account at Apple here to acquire a test provisioning profile, and it seems to be working fine as I receive notifications as new test users download the app from iTunes. This leads me to my next question: How do I use a provisioning profile in XCode? When I go to my project settings, under Provisioning, I see the following two fields: Distribution Certificate Provisioning Profile For each of those I have the following values: Distribution Certificate (Xcode4) None Provisioning Profile (Xcode4) None What should I do to go forward in using a test profile? Do I need an App ID and a Personal Apple ID? A: I'm a fan of having 2 things: An App ID for an App (this appears to be a free App ID). A "Personal" Apple ID
