composite system of piezoelectric composite which has excellent electrical properties and a high strength, especially to a composite system of piezoelectric composite which has excellent electrical properties and a high strength, a novel piezoelectric composite, a method for producing the same and a method for piezoelectric control. In recent years, there are increasing needs for higher-performance piezoelectric devices. The piezoelectric device can control functions of a system using a stress derived from a voltage applied thereto and a piezoelectric material has an excellent electromechanical conversion function as compared with other devices. In recent years, a high efficiency piezoelectric composite material which includes such a piezoelectric material is manufactured. The piezoelectric composite material includes a piezoelectric layer and a pair of electrode layers provided on both surfaces of the piezoelectric layer, for example. The composite material is fabricated in a shape of a chip and also provided to a desired location, for example. Thereby, the piezoelectric device can be obtained. There is known a piezoelectric composite which includes a piezoelectric material and a resin layer. For example, there is known a piezoelectric composite which includes a piezoelectric material of a non-classical piezoelectric composite which is a complex formed by three piezoelectric materials, or a piezoelectric material of a complex composite formed by a piezoelectric material and
