use GUI. The interface will be displayed on the screen and will help you to figure out the most important data on the phone. Each of the content is separated and labeled, letting you find them easily. Second, it is the best way of restoring forgotten passcode on iOS devices. Just launch the app, set up your phone, and the device's name should appear on the navigation bar. If you choose to select a type of passcode, this process will start immediately. If you are going to select the "forget passcode" option, all the data on the phone will be lost - hence, it is necessary to make a backup first. Third, after your device is connected to a computer, the app can help you to clear the data on the phone that is associated with the Apple ID password. Once that is done, this option will block the lock screen of the device and open the access to everything in the phone. In the event, your Apple ID is disabled, the app will help you delete this account without asking for a password. Just choose "Remove Apple ID" option and nothing will be requested. Fourth, for those who want to completely erase all the data that was associated with the Screen Time passcode, just click "Remove Screen Time" and everything will be erased.
