. Where. And this is a new window, meaning that it's not in the same window you're using to display this post. Instead of opening a new window, the way to open a new window is using an IIFE: `(() => { const w = window.open("", "_blank"); w.location = ""; })()`; This way, what you're doing is creating the new window only if the window already exists. Following the launch of the latest version of the iOS SDK earlier today, Apple today updated its Mobile Device Update scheme to remove support for releasing OS updates directly to device owners. Instead, Apple will “roll out updates to devices incrementally, enabling Apple to carefully measure the impact of updates and the effect of any problems on the overall security and stability of the iPhone, iPod touch and iPad platforms.” This scheme, first announced in October at WWDC with iOS 8, is intended to make iOS upgrades “better for Apple’s customers and more stable for developers who create apps,” said Apple CVP Craig Federighi. `e6) { tabuSearch.Add(e6); } tabuSearch.Add(e7);`
