As President Donald Trump called for intelligence officials to cut ties with the Obama administration's top Muslim-American allies, an American professor at a New York university who has worked extensively with the FBI in the Muslim community was arrested and charged with allegedly conspiring to support terrorism. In April, FBI agents arrested professor Aws al-Awlaki, an American citizen born in New Mexico and father of two, at his home in the New Mexico suburb of Hobbs. Prosecutors charged al-Awlaki with conspiring to provide material support to terrorists and said he posed an "imminent" threat to national security and the "safety of the U.S." "I am a Muslim American,"

Awlaki, a frequent American guest at Islamic conferences, told the Justice Department during one of his only court appearances. "I am a U.S. citizen and my rights are no less than any American's." "The federal government has gone to the point of arresting people in the United States for being Muslim," the New Mexico native said in October. "At the end of the day, I am a father who loves his country and I am more of a patriot than I am a terrorist." In a statement issued Wednesday morning, al-Awlaki's family said they are "exhausted with

The stored proc receives 4 parameters: Token to limit the query by Paginate items (optional) If the item is a parent or a child of a parent (optional) To only pull items where item_id_by_parent is null The stored proc returns an array of objects. I then feed that array of objects into elasticsearch. In elasticsearch, I'd like to make 2 type of queries Query that finds all items Query that finds all items that aren't related to a certain item, by the id in item_id_by_parent. If I do it in one query, I can only provide one not filter. Is there a way to use an OR in the filter? I am using filter rather than must since I am paginating. I am also using bool. A: You can simply use the bool filter, and then provide a clause to not retrieve items for which item_id_by_parent is not null. The clause itself can use a bool if true, a not if false, and any of the standard not filters you are probably already familiar with (ex: must_not, not_exists, terms). In this case it would look like this: { "query": { "bool": {

"filter": [{ "term": { "token": "lorem" } }, { "term": { "id_by_parent": null } }] } } A method of mining carbon black from sludge generated during the desulfurization of flue gases from the combustion of sulfur-containing fossil fuels is known. In this known method, the 570a42141b
