the increase of the AUD/FJF rate, and vice versa. Please refer to the payout section below for more detailed information. The data is estimated from the database of Payout-Exchange-Europe Limited. News Over the weekend, the FTSE 100 continued its ascent as investors were encouraged by positive noises from the BoE and Bank of England Governor Carney. The inclusion of the 'coming good' phrase that was attached to the BoE's statement was met with a sigh of relief as it indicated a softening of the Brexit hype that was initially a source of nervousness, which has been replaced with hope. The imminent good news is that the 'coming good' was made after the PM's comments about the direction of the country. The Fed is increasingly confident in their position to raise rates and individuals are now expecting an end to the worries about an 'arbitrary' and worrying tightening cycle. Another poll on the referendum was released today, with a new poll from ComRes and a new poll from
