Twitter's Martyn Williams says that the new (as in 'non-fantastical') look of the company's upcoming iOS app has been designed to simplify the already relatively simple tasks of tweeting, searching, and liking. To that end, Twitter says it has invested in a number of features, including: Search Filters: Using these filters, it's now possible to search for specific keywords or topics – all at once. Per-tag search: Search results are now even more relevant, with the option to search through only the tweets that contain any of the search terms. Likers: Twitter says its new “Likers” feature makes it possible to follow specific people and receive updates about them, without having to explicitly search for them. Dislikers: The most wanted feature on the iPhone right now is Twitter Disliker, which allows users to “like” people they don’t care about. #tags: Twitter says it has also made it easier to search for hashtags, with the new #tags feature. This means that no matter how many hashtags a tweet contains, the tweet will now be easy to search for. Finally, Twitter says it has streamlined the tweet composing process on the iPhone. “You can now create and send tweets with just a few taps”, Twitter says on the app’s support page. “We’ve taken out a lot of the stuff you don’t need to do.” The company even claims that the changes will increase tweet interaction and decrease its churn rate. “Our goal is to make it easier to do Twitter better. With this update, we’ve taken out a lot of stuff that has never been used”, Twitter says, noting that users can still like, retweet, and share a tweet. The company did not reveal any details regarding the upcoming app’s release, or its iOS platform, but some rumours are circulating. According to a leaked screenshot from Twitter’s website, Twitter is set to return to the iPhone’s App

Store in the coming days – with an exclusive announcement of some sort. The app will be available for free, but it's not yet known if Twitter's new design will be one of the updates

What's New in the Photoshop 2021?

UFC/EA Sports is promoting their new UFC 2 video game is doing something extraordinary. The promotion is giving away a few free copies of UFC 2 from the PlayStation Store. The promotion began last week, and it is expected to last through June 4th. The promotion is offering two copies of UFC 2 with purchase of a new PlayStation 4 console. The promotion is also offering people who already own UFC 2 a free copy of FUEL. To be eligible to win, you must make sure to leave a comment here saying why you want to win the game(s). Colorectal cancer and heme oxygenase (HO) are two attractive, unifying concepts in the etiology of CRC. We propose that the induction of HO may prevent the development of CRC, and that epigenetic mechanisms are at play in this process. These concepts will be tested in a series of experiments in cell culture models and animal models. Specifically, we will use a small molecule inhibitor of HO induction and induction of two prototypical genes from the cadmium response (Cd-rep) in CRC models to determine if the inhibition of HO alone or in combination with Cd affects the CRC development. Other experiments will be performed in an animal model of CRC to examine the induction of HO in different organs in order to determine if HO induction is effective in two different tissues of CRC. Our hypothesis is that the inhibition of HO will lead to the induction of HO and the protection of the colon from CRC development. The detection of epigenetic modifications that are associated with HO expression will provide further insight into the mechanism of HO induction in CRC.

Epigenetic modifiers have been linked to the development of CRC. We will use a series of in vitro and in vivo experiments to test if epigenetic regulation is part of the regulatory mechanisms of HO induction.
Finally, the potential use of the HO inhibitor as a chemopreventive agent will be tested in a pilot study in patients with IBD. The proposed studies may lead to an innovative, unifying concept that could be extended to the prevention of other cancers by modulating epigenetic mechanisms in the body. PUBLIC HEALTH

RELEVANCE: Colorectal cancer is one of the most common types of cancer in the United States and is a major cause of death. We propose that heme oxygenase could be an effective target for preventing the development of this disease. Q: What does "them out" mean? What does "them out"

mean? What
