If you can hear me, we are only 50-100 km from the other cities!’! It was the early morning of the 11th of May, and nobody knew what to say. While hearing the voice that sounded very concerned for the residents and his own family, he said: ‘Our hands don’t know what to do. We have no face masks, we are running out of food, and most people don’t even have money for fuel. We need help. My sister has had the virus, but we don’t know where to find an Ebola hospital. But even if you are not sick, you can be on the threshold of contracting the disease and getting
