April 3, 2019. It was developed by LogMeIn Inc and can be used for free on up to 5 computers on your network. If you need to connect more computers ... More computers, then for each additional computer you must purchase a license for $9.99 per year. This is a great product that can make your work and your employees' work easier and safer. But this product has data security issues. If your employees use it on their network infrastructure, it will mean that they will see all your open files, all your webcams, all your connected external devices - and all your public passwords!
