Handy Backup is the only file backup and sync app that allows you to back up files from one Android device to multiple Android devices and Macs. And we're here to talk about the latest version, 2.0. And this version is a much, much better version. Just by looking at the changes in the app, this is a huge leap forward. But that's not all that's new. Amazing Backup We've improved the backup and sync speed, and we've implemented a new backup feature that automatically backs up files when there is no Wi-Fi. It's just that easy, just click the "Backup" button in the app menu. Now, in this new version, we've also improved the performance of the app, making it run better on larger screens and tablets. New Backup Features New support for Android versions after 5.0, and automatically backup and sync files on the phone in three new ways: To Computer, to Storage Card, and to Wi-Fi Direct. We've also added two new backup modes: Add and Delete. For example, when you select a To Computer backup mode, it will add backup files to the backup list. And when you select the Add mode, you can select folders, items, or even list them in a text file. And you can delete all the backup files you don't want in the Delete mode. Easy Transfer Handy Backup includes all the basic features you'd expect in a backup app, like the basic backup (create backups automatically) and sync (send backups to a network), plus it includes the features you'd expect, like the ability to backup apps (backup apps to the cloud, or copy apps and their data between devices), backup widgets (backup widgets, add widgets to your homescreen), and advanced backup features (create folders, create backups of apps or widgets). That's all you need, just click the "Backup" button in the app, and all your files will be automatically backed up. Restore In the Restore tab, you can click "Show Restore History" to view the restore logs, or click "Clear Restore History" to clear the logs. In the Restore tab, you can click "Show Restore History" to view the restore logs, or click "Clear Restore History" to clear the logs. Restore Lists
