But now, I am trying to move to a new language (HTML5 and CSS3) and am lost.

This is what I have: What I want to do is make it look like an actual button (like the Google and Yahoo buttons). What I have tried so far to make this looks like a button is: (and for a different look, I've tried or a btn class) I've tried to create a CSS with a span on the div, but the span is always covering up the input element. I have tried span(30%) and span(20%) and 100% or 100vw and 100vh and all to no avail. The input element is right at the bottom of the div, not sure why it is in the middle or how I can move it to the left. So: Is there a way to make a button like the google or yahoo buttons, but using only HTML5 and CSS3? Are there some specific div properties that I need to set to place the button in the right position and size it properly? Thank you very much A: Here's some CSS, please let me know if you have any questions .webbutton{ width:90px; height:45px;
