Q: Gulp stream a file where event is called I have a gulp task that should stream a file using: `gulp.src([file1, file2]).pipe(gulp.dest('./'))` Where file1 and file2 are also "streams". file1 is an S3 file and I want gulp to stream it, so I'm doing this: `gulp.src(['./file1.txt', './file2.txt']).pipe(gulp.dest('./'))` Is there a way to stream file2.txt only after file1.txt has been streamed? I'm a little confused as to whether or not this is possible. A: Is there a way to stream file2.txt only after file

What's new in Fifa 22:

- HyperMotion Technology - Add more immersion and authenticity to football matches with this immersive technology that unlocks complete levels of player action using motion capture data from a real-life football match in motion capture suits.
- Ultimate Team Pro - Select from over 100 FUT cards and more than 500 team kits to build the greatest football team ever. And for the first time in FIFA, make millions of transfers using the new FUT Draft on the pitch.

First introduced in FIFA 19, Ultimate Team Pro allows players to draft their attacking and defensive lineups using the new FUT Draft table in FIFA 22. Using new FUT Draft functionality, players' cards from FIFA 21 will no longer require any specific cards from a FIFA Ultimate Team account to create a team, resulting in more opportunity to get more attractive cards that can be inserted into the best-ever Ultimate Team team.

What's new in career mode:

- Pro Player Career - Gamers can now have it all: manage their club and their player career simultaneously. With more flair options, new player contracts, and direct club instructions, you can now monitor the evolution of your players' skill levels and shape them into world class stars, free from the constraints of being limited to only your own player career.

- Club Ownership System - Shift football's development from grassroots to the top, and prove that the bank balance doesn't always define the champion. The 360-odd clubs are now supported by a full range of unique add-ons, including stadium improvement loans, player loaning, transfer saves and player progression enhancements. Club co-ownership allows players to keep both their base salary and add-on wages, and run their team alongside a business, removing club management as a barrier to first-time players wanting to throw themselves into the hot-seat.
