I've created a SessionProvider class where I'm calling the createDataSecureSession() method to create a session with its own encryption. However, I can't seem to figure out the destroySession() method as it's not being invoked. I need to implement this method for my DestroySessionExceptionHandler to destroy the session successfully. public class SessionProvider implements HttpSessionBindingListener { public static boolean sessionCreated = false; //get a session to store and encrypt in the database public static HttpSession createDataSecureSession() { HttpSession session = HttpSessionFactory.createSession(false); try { //create a session that will be encrypted 595f342e71
