The Roblox Corporation is a privately held American video game and online entertainment company founded in 2004 in San Mateo, California by David Baszucki and Erik Cassel. Its first game was introduced on April 25, 2006, and is a video game platform and game creation system for the web and mobile devices. Roblox is programmed by its players and allows children to design their own games, or games created by other users, which can be played online and downloaded to mobile devices. Players use in-game items to create characters, which they can then move and design in a three-dimensional virtual world, where players' creations are displayed to other players. From 2007 to 2010, Roblox was used to create 17.4% of all Internet videos and was among the top 50 most-visited websites in the world by October 2013. The company earned US$65.3 million in revenue for 2010. Roblox is a member of the Online Games Association (OGA), Interactive Games & Entertainment Association (IGEA), the Entertainment Software Association (ESA), the Entertainment Merchants Association (EMA), and the UN Global Compact. Roblox Review: Roblox has developed games for the web and mobile devices, and primarily targets boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 16. Unlike many other game platforms, Roblox is free to play, with in-game purchases available through the virtual currency of Robux. Roblox has a large user base. You're browsing our forum as a guest. Sign Up to vote, Comment, Share and Learn! While Roblox is a very fun platform, sometimes it seems that people actually use the Cheats function as a way to run around and do anything they want on the game. Our reason for this is to make people aware and to remind them that cheating is just not that cool and has real downsides in most cases. In most games there are cheat codes, which are basically generated numbers. We have a program on our server which lets people enter and test cheat codes in a certain way, whether it's up or down, which makes it possible to find out which one works the most. After that, the program will write that to a file, which is sent to all users on our server. When that file is on our servers, everyone can enter the codes and do things that aren't game-related for free. It is against the rules of the site to write cheat codes as a response, like posting this text, I mean, not as cheats codes. Now that we've warned you, don't start posting cheat codes, ever. If you wish to post cheat codes, go somewhere else, and find one of those sites who allows you to download or type cheat codes. If you start using cheats, then we will have to ban you again, and block your IP. Which will ruin your fun, not to mention your Robux. But don't worry: On our server, there is a second file, in which all the codes that are randomly generated are put together. Which means that if someone takes that file and puts together the codes from that, he can make a whole bunch of decent cheats. All he has to do is, find where the file is, get all the codes from the file and enter those codes in his cheat program. It might be a challenge for someone to do that, as all the codes and connections are randomized everytime it is generated, but if we think that someone wants to cheat, we will remove his or her account. So, look at the codes below and start making your own cheat codes. Enjavy wrote:Uhhh, not sure if I get this. Why would you need to use cheat codes to fly around. Just make your character fly around Of course you do. How else are you going to get to the other side of the map before it's over? Enjavy wrote:Wh
